English Proficiency Policy - Higher Education

Policy Code: STU-014  Version: 22.0  Effective Date: 8 May 2019

Purpose

This Policy outlines the process by which higher education students and staff of the College may have language, literacy and numeracy issues effectively addressed.

Definition of “College” – In the higher education sector, Australian College of Natural Medicine Pty Ltd trades as Endeavour College of Natural Health (Endeavour College) and Wellnation. For the purpose of this Policy, any reference to ‘College’ or ‘the College’ should be considered a reference to each or any of these respective entities or trading names.

Scope

- All campuses (including online)
- All academic staff (including contract academics)
- All higher education students
- All Admissions staff
- All Student Services staff

Policy Statement

All courses at the College are delivered in the English language. It is essential that a student has language, literacy and numeracy (LLN) skills sufficient to successfully complete assessments at the higher education level as reflected in the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF). Higher education qualifications offered at the College are located at levels 5 to 8 of the AQF and are designed and accredited to enable graduates to demonstrate the learning outcomes expressed as knowledge, skills and the application of knowledge and skills specified in the AQF level criteria. Refer to the AQF website for details.

It is also essential that academic staff have LLN skills sufficient to communicate course content to students in a manner that is clearly understandable. The College provides clear information to each prospective student and staff member on enrolment about language, literacy and numeracy requirements including the provision of registering as an English as a Second Language (ESL) student if students self-identify as having difficulties.

Student LLN skills are not assumed upon admission and students who identify as having a LLN concern may be asked to attend an English language evaluation session or test with an external organisation.

English Proficiency Requirements and Support

Students
Students who identify with English as a Second Language (ESL) or who demonstrate difficulty with the English language during their course admission process or studies are eligible to register for the ESL Program which includes the provision of ‘reasonable adjustments’ to assist a student with English difficulties to equally participate in College life and course requirements. All adjustments are approved and agreed to by the student and a Student Adviser and an approved reasonable adjustment plan is implemented. All reasonable adjustment plans are to be supported by certified ESL documentation. An example of reasonable adjustment for students with English difficulties may include providing additional exam time or allowing a dictionary to assist in completion of an exam.

All Higher Education applicants or students for whom English is an additional or second language including permanent residents and citizens must meet the English language proficiency requirements for entry into Higher Education study at the College.

Prospective or current students for whom English is an additional or second language will be required to undertake an assessment of English language at their own cost and, depending on the course of enrolment, achieve a result at least equivalent to the minimum standards required in the Inherent Course Requirements and outlined in this Policy.

These levels have been set to ensure the student will:

- Have the ability to successfully engage in study in their selected field at the relevant AQF level; and
- Where relevant, have the ability to meet registration requirements with the Australian Health Practitioner Regulation Agency (AHPRA) and the Chinese Medicine Board of Australia (CMBA). Students who require registration with Practitioner-related agencies and boards may need to meet additional requirements to be registered and should refer to industry websites.

The approved English language tests and minimum standards are:

Bachelor of Health Science (Acupuncture) and postgraduate qualifications:

- IELTS 7.0 (no sub score less than 6.5)
- Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE 185-190, no sub score less than 176)
- Pearson (PTE) Academic Score of 65 (overall score, with a communicative skills score in writing 58 or above)
- Internet based (iBT) TOEFL score of 100 (with a minimum of 24 or above in writing).

All other Bachelor degrees:

- IELTS 6.5 (overall score)
- Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE 176-184)
- Pearson (PTE) Academic Score of 59 (overall score)
- Paper based (PBT) TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of 577
- Internet based (iBT) TOEFL score of 90.

Higher Education Diplomas:

- IELTS 6.0 (overall score)
- Cambridge English: First (FCE 169-175)
- Pearson (PTE) Academic Score of 52 (overall score)
- Paper based (PBT) TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) score of 537
- Internet based (iBT) TOEFL score of 79.
• English test results must be no more than two (2) years old at the time of enrolment
• English test results must meet the minimum standards for entry into the College
• After provision of the scores above, if it is identified that a student’s English language skills are not proficient across all areas of LLN the student may be required to undertake a further external test at the student’s cost
• Certain professional bodies have English language requirements which must be satisfied prior to registration and practice in the field (e.g. AHPRA and CMBA for Acupuncturists).

The College reserves the right to request that a prospective or current student undergoes an English test and / or provides certified documentary evidence of their English level to meet the Inherent Course Requirements and the minimum English language proficiency requirements.

As the College’s course entry requirements meet professional body English language requirements for registration, the College takes great care in:

• Ensuring students meet those requirements; and,
• Will seek further testing of any student (domestic or international) who may be identified as struggling with English language proficiency and skills.

If a student fails to meet the minimum HE English language proficiency requirements after further testing, the student will be required to seek further English skill building at their own expense.

Other evidence of English language proficiency
• Permanent residents and citizens where English is a second language may be exempt from taking an English proficiency language test if evidence is able to be provided that supports the student meeting the CMBA and AHPRA requirements. A student is to refer to the industry websites that outline these requirements
• Students may be exempt if certified supporting documentation is able to be provided that supports a ‘full time equivalent’ education confirming the completion of five years of school or vocational education being taught and assessed in English in Australia, Canada, New Zealand, Republic of Ireland, South Africa, United Kingdom or United States of America
• The certified supporting documentation will be assessed and may be accepted for the purpose of meeting and applying the acceptance of the English language proficiency standards of this policy.

A student of Acupuncture who is able to produce documentation prior to enrolment that meets the AHPRA English Proficiency requirements may be exempt from taking an English language proficiency test. This documentation will be assessed by the National Sales and Admissions Manager in consultation with the Head of the Department - Chinese Medicine, and may be accepted for the purpose of meeting and applying the acceptance of the English language proficiency standards of this policy.

ESL reasonable adjustment plan reviews
All students who have identified as ESL will be contacted by a Student Adviser to complete an annual review of the reasonable adjustment plan. At the time of the review an ESL student may be asked to produce:

• Supporting documentation that supports current English proficiency including the passing of subjects recently studied.

If a student has been identified as a Student at Risk (SaR) due to subject failure and not meeting the minimum English language proficiency requirements, the student will be required to seek further skill building in English at their own expense. Students may be required to defer study at the College while undertaking further English tuition and may be required to undertake further testing at their own expense to prove English proficiency prior to continuation of their studies.
An ESL strategy for a SaR may require the student to:

- Undertake a series of English language classes at their own expense
- Take an English language test and produce certified documentation that meets the minimum English proficiency standards outlined in this policy
- Provide certified documentation and evidence that supports meeting the AHPRA English Language Skills Standard. A student is to refer to the industry websites that outline these requirements
- Be placed on probationary enrolment, and meet the conditions of that probationary enrolment (this may include study load changes, academic achievement requirements, or other accommodations)
- Be excluded from study as per the Students at Risk (Academic Standing) Policy - Higher Education.

Support Options

A number of differing support options for students can be implemented and may include the following:

- Additional testing to determine level of English support required including external testing at the student’s cost
- Pairing the student with a study mentor or buddy that demonstrates well developed English language skills
- Additional self-study review
- Additional examination time
- Allowing a standard word for word dictionary in the classroom (no medical dictionaries with word to word explanations or diagrams are permitted in the examination room).

If a buddy with the necessary expertise or resources to provide assistance is unavailable then it is appropriate to refer students to local external language support services. In special circumstances it may become appropriate to use the services of an external specialist to develop a specific language program such as AMES. Information on AMES is available at: http://www.ames.net.au. Students are expected to cover any costs involved in order to access external English language support.

The College acknowledges its responsibility to support students with LLN difficulties within the scale and scope of its operations. Consequently College Lecturers and Supervisors are urged to use direct or indirect strategies to assist students experiencing difficulties and register the student as ‘At Risk’ (SaR) with Student Services for appropriate follow up and assistance where required.

Language, Literacy & Numeracy Strategies

The LLN Strategy at the College recommends individual and group support to enhance learning for students. The following strategies are implemented:

- Planning teaching
- Provision of study buddy, mentor, coach when available
- Modifying learning materials where appropriate that do not compromise the integrity of the assessment
- Referral to external agencies for literacy and numeracy courses
- Providing flexibility in learning and assessments delivery modes
- Scheduling and access to support services and registration into the ESL program.

The College employs a number of teaching and learning strategies including the use of verbal explanations, diagrams/charts, group presentations, demonstrations, incorporation of workplace materials, modelling and activities to assist with differing student learning styles and requirements.

Complex Terminology

Where it is a requirement of course learning outcomes, students may require specific language and terminology. Where lack of expertise risks a successful outcome for the student, the matter should be referred to the Director, Student Services and Retention via the Student At Risk (SaR) process, for support strategies and referral.

LLN Assessment

Whilst preferable, LLN testing for students is not mandatory under the Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF), however provision is to be made for assessments where it is requested and appropriate. The College reserves the right to determine how and to whom the assessment is provided. The following points should be noted:

- Experienced and qualified lecturers understand which content and curriculum may prove difficult or challenging and what specific skills are required
- Lecturers are expected to identify Students At Risk (SaR) and know when to refer to Student Services for appropriate follow through and follow up on ‘reasonable adjustment’ support strategies
- Students may indicate or self-disclose their LLN requirements and be referred to the ESL program for ‘reasonable adjustment’ support
- Students can ask for additional support during their course of study and may be referred to external agencies for further skill building support at their own expense

The College’s higher education courses require proficiency in LLN skills and may require additional support.

On Enrolment

On enrolment, the Student Enrolment Advisers provide prospective students with information about the teaching and learning environment and seek to gain an insight into the learning styles and language preferences of the applicant. The College uses this information to make informed choices about a prospective students’ capacity to meet the course requirements and to ascertain if additional support is required. The Student Enrolment Adviser will discuss the prospective student’s LLN capabilities.

A prospective student for whom English is an additional or second language will be required to meet the minimum English language proficiency requirements to be eligible to enter into Higher Education study at the relevant AQF level. A student will be required to present a certified copy of their English language level prior to admission into the College. A student may require an external assessment, at their own cost to occur before admission to the College.

Staff

Academic staff who identify with ESL must have a grasp of the English language appropriate to teach in higher education, and will be required to show evidence of appropriate English language proficiency. This level has been set to ensure the staff member will have the ability to successfully impart knowledge to students at the appropriate academic level through all forms of communication. At the discretion of the College, prospective Higher Education academic staff who demonstrate difficulty with English language may be required to undertake an assessment of English language at their own expense and achieve a result at least equivalent to:

- IELTS 7.0 (no sub score less than 6.5)
- Cambridge English: Advanced (CAE 185-190, no sub score less than 176)
- Pearson (PTE) Academic Score of 66 (overall score, with a communicative skills score in writing 58 or above)
• Internet based (iBT) TOEFL score of 100 (with a minimum of 24 or above in writing).

English test results must be no more than two (2) years old. After provision of scores above, if it is identified that a prospective staff member's English language skills are not proficient, the College reserves the right not to employ that person.

Current staff teaching in a Higher Education course who are identified as having English difficulties (such as through student feedback) may be required to undertake an assessment of English language at the expense of the College. If the results outlined above are not achieved by an existing staff member, the College may take appropriate action such as reassigning the teacher to a lower level subject, reassigning the teacher to administrative duties while English levels are increased, and / or enrolling the staff member in further English classes.

Language Literacy & Numeracy network
The Australian Core Skills Framework (ACSF) is designed to support a consistent national approach to identifying and developing five core skills. It provides shared concepts and language for identifying, describing and discussing core skills. It also provides an approach for benchmarking, monitoring and reporting on the performance of core skills.

These skills are:

• Learning
• Reading
• Writing
• Oral Communication
• Numeracy

Definitions

Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) - is a national system of qualifications encompassing all post compulsory education. Higher Education awards are located at AQF Levels 5-10.

AQF level – is the nomenclature used in the AQF to demonstrate the relative complexity and / or depth of achievements and the autonomy required of graduates of AQF qualifications to demonstrate that achievement e.g.: AQF level 1 has the lowest complexity and AQF level 10 has the highest complexity.

Bachelor Degree (AQF Level 7) – is a program typically equivalent to three or more years of full-time study designed to equip graduates with learning outcomes (knowledge, skills and application) at the level of the qualification type, consistent with the discipline and the characteristics of the Endeavour Graduate, for which the College grants the award of a Bachelor Degree.

Language – Language relates to the words, verbal structures and gestures we use to convey meaning. This includes communication forms such as speaking, listening, reading, writing and visual communication (such as the Australian sign language – AUSLAN), Language also encompasses broad groupings, such as English, Mandarin, Waripiri, and industry-specific jargon, acronyms and technical references. These can change and evolve over time. The value placed on the different communication forms of language will vary.

Learning Outcomes - the expression of the set of knowledge, skills and the application of the knowledge and skills a person has acquired and is able to demonstrate as a result of learning.

Literacy – Literacy means being able to read and use written information. It also means being able to contextualise writing in an appropriate way. Literacy involves synthesising speaking, listening and critical thinking with reading and writing. Literacy skills allow us to interact effectively with one another.

LLN – language, literacy and numeracy skills relate to how we communicate with each other. LLN skills are often, but not always, used at the same time.

Numeracy – Numeracy is the practical application of mathematical skills to absorb, use and critically evaluate information in numerical or graphical form. Numeracy skills include basic number skills, spatial and graphical concepts, the use of measurement and problem-solving. Numeracy and literacy are interlinked particularly when extracting mathematical information from written text.

Student at Risk (SaR) – a student is deemed to be ‘At Risk’ if they are not performing adequately in, or progressing through, their course as per the Academic Progression Policy – Higher Education.

Student – is an individual person who is formally enrolled to study at the College. The individual person is that who appears on the College’s documents such as enrolment, admission and payment documents, and who is assigned an individual student ID.
